

Why do our sales keep growing by 200% every year?

Because of our 24/7 service and experienced R&D team

QIHAN

When it comes to your OEM camera orders or project installation needs, we address them quickly. We have agents spread out in over 10 countries worldwide and a team of 30 salespeople who are on-call 24/7 to answer any technical inquiry that you might have. This has helped us maintain our 200-percent sales growth year after year.

To ensure that you are on top of industry trends, we reinvest 20 percent of our profits in our R&D center. In this facility, we employ 20 engineers who have honed their skills by working for five years in South Korea's security industry. With this financial backing and expertise, they're able to develop two new models each month.

We have more than 500 products to choose from, each with a two-year warranty. And we have returned material authorization in place for added sourcing convenience. To benefit from our advantages, contact us today.
